EXHIBITIONS

Terry Maker: Because the World is Round Through Summer 2020

Local artist Terry Maker mines commonplace materials, cutting and re-combining them into dense and tactile wall reliefs and freestanding sculptures. By revealing unusual surfaces, Maker invites visitors to question normal art forms and gives permission for imaginative interpretations. The viewer just might start to imagine a new unexplored world or allow themselves to escape through some kind of planetary portal.

KIDS PROGRAMS

Discovery Days

Discovery Days is an early childhood program at the Longmont Museum that encourages children ages 2 to 6 and their parents/caregivers to engage together in educational, hands-on art activities. Through social interaction and inspiring experiences, this program is a place where play and learning connect.
